INTRODUCTION

In any sphere of life or activity a slow steady growth is considered preferable to one that is irregular and spasmodic. Day-by-day progress in church and church institutional work is scarcely noticeable. However, when one compares the progress of the church and her work but once a year, trends are more clearly indicated. The new 1941 Mennonite Yearbook and Directory which you hold in your hands is a printed record of one year's growth. By comparing this with Yearbooks of preceding years one does not find a growth that is spectacular or phenomenal, but one that is gratifying and which indicates a healthy spiritual condition. We trust that all evidences of growth found on these pages point to trends that are in accordance with God's Word and which consequently will definitely advance His Kingdom here below.

This publication records as accurately as possible the statistical, as well as spiritual, growth of the Church and her organizations. During the past year new congregations have been organized; new buildings have been dedicated; new mission stations have been founded; and new organizations have been developed. On the other hand, the total membership of the church has increased to 58,758, a two per cent gain over last year, an increase of 1,144 members. Great care was also exercised in attempting to bring up to date the personnel of all church organizations as well as the names and addresses of the ministerial directory. We are deeply indebted to all officials of the conferences and church institutions for their prompt and hearty co-operation in supplying the information requested. The presence or absence of any information found herein is not to be construed a matter of judgment or opinion of the editor; our aim has been to record facts.

Again we desire to call your attention to the great amount of valuable information found in the Yearbook and Directory. This is the only publication that contains a complete ministerial directory of all Mennonite branches in United States, Canada, and Mexico, and a partial directory of Mennonite ministers in South America, India, and Africa.

We trust that, if the Lord spares us, by His grace we may make increased progress in the year that lies ahead. To this end may we labor and pray.

THE MENNONITE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHARITIES FOR THE YEAR 1940

In Brief Summary

By J. N. Kaufman, President

The missionary activities of the Church are the normal, Christian expression of a living faith in Christ. They serve as a barometer of the sincerity and seriousness of our Christian life. They are still the one great unifying force within our beloved Church.

There are always more opportunities for missionary service than there is ability to perform. Financial resources are one of the limiting factors. Those responsible for directing the work find it necessary to make careful selection of locality as well as type of work to be done. "Where and in what manner may our Christian testimony be the most effective in view of our resources?" is a question in the background of our planning.

A few changes were effected during the year in our city mission work. Bro. and Sister David Castillo, in charge of the Mexican work in Chicago, accepted a call to the Colorado field among the Mexican population there. Bro. Lester Hershey was appointed by the Board to fill the vacancy and is doing good work. Knowing the Spanish language well, he is well qualified to take charge of the Chicago work. Fort Wayne came in for special consideration, due to the ill health of the present superintendent, Bro. Newton Weber. For a time it was believed that after a few months' rest he would be sufficiently restored to resume his work, but present medical advice indicates that he will have to leave the work permanently. The Mission Board is arranging for a new superintendent to fill the vacancy.

Extension work on a small scale has also been undertaken. Bro. and Sister Castillo, who are now serving in the Colorado field, are receiving some financial help from the Mission Board through the conference that is sponsoring their work among the Mexicans. The Board is also subsidizing the commendable work that Bro. and Sister Glenn Whitaker are doing in the Los Angeles Mission. The provision made by the General Board to assist the Missouri-Kansas District Mission Board in its work at Culp, Arkansas, is now being carried out, and the General Board is providing twenty-five dollars a month for the support of an additional missionary couple in that field.

The following missionaries on furlough were reappointed to return to their respective fields. To the Argentine: Bro. and Sister Amos Swartzendruber, Bro. and Sister Lewis Weber and Bro. and Sister Lauver. These missionaries sailed in November excepting the Lauvers who will continue their work at the Johnstown Mission until about the middle of 1941. Those reappointed to India are: Bro. and Sister G. J. Lapp and Dr. and Sister G. D. Troyer. Two other missionaries on furlough were considered for reappointment, but health conditions made it unwise for them to return to India. The India appointees were to sail in November, but war conditions caused delays. It is now expected that they will be able to sail early in January.

It is not the policy of the Mission Board to spend money in advance of the receipts from the brotherhood. Nevertheless, it is occasionally necessary to supply an urgent need for which the money is not immediately available. A case in point is the Ohio Old People's Home, to which frequent reference has been made. The finished first floor of the Home is now fully occupied and there is a large waiting list of applicants. The Board has approved a plan for soliciting funds to complete the second floor, but the plans include the stipulation that no work is to be done until the necessary $15,000 is in hand. Another case in point is the Mission Home in Detroit. There is still some indebtedness on the mission house which should be taken care of before our next annual meeting. The $5000 needed for the new Isolation Ward in connection with the Kansas City Children's Home is slowly being provided.

The state of Kansas is insistent that the ward be constructed, but we are not beginning building until the entire amount is in hand.

The financial responsibilities are not the least of our heavy problems. They are far-reaching and serious. However, the steady inflow of offerings from the entire brotherhood for the maintenance of the total mission work of the Church is very encouraging. This is all the more appreciated when we consider the fact that large additional demands are being made on our giving capacity by reason of the extensive relief work being done in Europe due to the exigencies of war. The children have again, through their quarter fund investments and missionary boxes, contributed over $11,000 for the missionary work of the Church. This is the highest amount ever contributed by the children.

Repeated appeals have been coming from our foreign fields for official visitors to come to the fields and counsel with the missionaries on the spot relative to their arduous tasks. For various reasons these appeals could not be heeded until this year when the Mission Board appointed its Secretary, Bro. S. C. Yoder, to make an official visit to our South America field. Bro. Yoder spent several months in the Argentine, studying the problems of the missionaries with reference to policies, plans for extension and similar matters. Not only was his presence and counsel of great help in the work, but his personal fellowship with the missionaries and the native Christians were greatly appreciated. Bro. Yoder presented to the Executive and Mission Committees in joint session a very comprehensive report of his investigations and presented recommendations which have been taken under consideration by the Board.

Plans have been put on foot to revive interest in Mission Study classes which had been lagging in the past number of years. It is to be hoped that by another year we will be able to report large number of classes throughout the church. Special efforts are also being made to organize Youth Missionary Projects among a class of our constituency not at present affected by the Quarter Fund and Savings Boxes. We believe that here is a great field which should be carefully explored.

We praise God for His continued guidance in the work of spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ in a needy world, the needs of which have greatly increased in these turbulent and uncertain times. May we all be faithful in our Christian service and testimony.

Peoria, Illinois.

OUR INDIA MISSION

By J. D. Graber, Secretary

The year draws to a close under thickening clouds of war and with the spectre of famine hovering over the land. The words of the Psalmist are as balm for a troubled soul: "He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth." "In the days of famine they shall be satisfied." God is indeed "our refuge and our strength," and there is none other like Him.

The Movement Among Lepers

For more than ten years roadside leper clinics have been conducted from Sankra station. This work, besides affording physical relief to hundreds, was always viewed as an evangelistic opportunity. As years went by, many became interested, and frequently there were those who came near to the kingdom, yet refused to enter in. The Mission had practically decided to close the clinics. But when man was at his extremity, the Spirit of God moved, and during the months of September and October, twelve of these people sealed their faith in Christ through water baptism. These baptisms were performed in open-air meetings by the roadside on various clinic days at three different stopping places. The believers returned to their villages rejoicing. Others are near the kingdom and we believe the Spirit of God will bring them also. What a privilege! But what a responsibility to teach and nurture these babes in Christ in their scattered villages.

The New Field

At Kodarma, in S. W. Bihar, a new church of ten believers was established during the month of October. Some were received by water baptism and others were reclaimed. During the late twenties there had been a movement among these people, and churches had been established by the Methodist Mission. But due to shortage of funds and workers they were unable to care for them, and the earlier movements of the Spirit were all but obliterated. We have recommended to the Board that work be officially opened and have appointed two families to work in this field during 1941. Pray with us that those who have come to Christ may win their caste fellows and relatives, and that a whole series of churches may be founded in that field. "The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this."

Church-Mission Relationship

During 1939 the mission formulated its objective anew in its relationship to the Indian Church. It is clear that a Church in India can never draw from its poverty-stricken economy the support needed to carry on a program set up by foreign missions and supported by a rich, industrialized economy of western countries. It has seemed to us, therefore, axiomatic that the path of sound progress for the Indian Church lies along the line of developing her own resources in her own way, rather than in an induction of her best talent into a foreign missionary organization which is, perforce, a temporary structure. We have felt led along the line we have taken, and we believe this will be to the eventual best interests of both Church and Mission.

The first practical outworking of this principle has been the Pastor support arrangement. The churches raise more than half of the amount needed to support five Indian Pastors while the Mission gives a grant of the remainder. The administration is carried on by a Board of ten, one from each congregation, appointed by Conference, on which the Mission Treasurer and the Bishops are ex officio members.

Plans are now progressing for the transfer of the management of station primary schools to the local congregations. At Sankra the plan is already in operation. The transfer of certain properties, such as church buildings, schools, orphanages and homes, as well as the management of these institutions, to Indian bodies, properly constituted and safeguarded, are developing phases of the program.

Volunteer Evangelism

Besides managing its own institutions and affairs, the chief activity of a Church must always be its evangelistic outreach. The funds annually raised in the Thanksgiving Day offerings are kept by the various congregations for local evangelistic effort. In this way Bands of Witness have been functioning in a number of congregations during the past year. Scripture portions and other literature have been distributed; groups were sent on preaching tours, and in other ways local evangelistic projects were fostered. It is heartening to see the interest in volunteer evangelism shown by ordinary church members, students, teachers, and others.

The spiritual basis for this work was much strengthened by the soul-stirring jalsa (Spiritual Life Conference) held during the last days of 1939. The lives of many were made definitely more fruitful during the present year, and already we are looking forward with anticipation to the meetings arranged for the closing week of 1940.

Routine

Most of a missionary's time is taken up with a thousand humdrum tasks. It may all be, however, a labor of love, and, under the blessing of God's Spirit, may be the means of turning many from darkness to light. Our schools, orphanages, hospitals, dispensaries, homes, scheduled village visits and tours, personal contacts, preaching appointments, sale and distribution of literature, prayer —personal and concerted—all add up to another year of witness for the Master. He has given us joy and a refreshed faith. Our trust is in Him. During the past year there was little sickness among the missionaries, for which we are humbly thankful. Praise Him with us for His wonderful mercies, and pray for us.

ARGENTINE MENNONITE MISSION

By Nelson Litwiller, Secretary

"Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power [authority] is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, . . ." It is only in His authority that any one of us dare to go and make disciples of others. But praise His name, if we go with His power and authority, His presence will go with us also—"to the end." We thank Him for His grace and blessings during the year 1940.

Young People's Institute and Annual Conference

In the month of January a very inspiring Young People's Institute was held in Pehuajo. Approximately fifty young people from our various congregations took part. This is always a means of deepening the spiritual life and inspiring our people to a more faithful testimony. Immediately following the Institute we celebrated our annual conference which was also a blessing to many.

Evangelism

The tent and Bible coach were again used during the year working especially in the Pehuajo and Carlos Casares districts. The coach finished up in French when the cold weather set in and was laid up in Bragado for the winter. The coach as well as the tent are getting old. The tent has very little resistance, and several hard winds have caused considerable damage. It is a question of how long we can put new patches on an old garment and still make it serve. If we have fine weather, the outfit may serve one more season.

In addition to the tent work there have been special revival meetings in many of the towns. There is a greater activity in Sunday-school work also. Pellegrini has several schools. Pehuajo has opened up in another section of the town with good interest, and Bragado has opened the third school with very good interest. Other towns are reporting increased attendance. In some of our towns some of the young sisters read the Bible voluntarily in the homes of interested people.

Institutional Work

Under this heading come our orphanage, clinic, and schools. The orphanage is in charge of our native Brother Ernesto Piñeyro and his wife, Pilar. They are doing a very good work, and the children entrusted to the home are taken care of very well.

The Clinic situated in Pehuajo is making plans for expansion, giving special attention to maternity cases. Due to existing laws and standards, it will be almost financially impossible to have a nurses' training school with diplomas recognized by the government. The best we may hope to do under the circumstances is to give a practical training in home nursing.

Some of our stations have kindergarten, first, and second grade schoolwork, but this is becoming increasingly difficult because of government regulations.

The mission started a short-term Bible school this year on the order of short-term winter Bible schools at home. Some twenty young people studied for fifteen days. This has given impetus to more Bible study in the local congregations, and several pastors are now conducting special classes for Bible study for the young people.

Another annual feature that is helpful is the Workers' Institute, when for four days all the native workers and missionaries meet for special study, discussing of problems and prayer.

New Missionaries

We are glad for the new missionaries, Sister Una Cressman and Bro. and Sister Calvin Holderman, who arrived in March. The former is studying the language in Pehuajo where she is already helping in the clinic, and the latter are studying in Bragado after which they will go to the Cosquin District.

New Church Buildings

With the help of the Rotating Building Fund, new church buildings were erected in Lonquimay, French, and Pellegrini. The interest in all these towns is very good. In Cosquin, Cordoba, a chapel and missionary home were built. About ten thousand pesos of the cost were contributed by the Argentine churches, and the rest was loaned from the Rotating Building Fund. The congregation at Cosquin is very happy in their new place of worship. Plans are under way for the building of a hall in another part of Santa Rosa, a town which has grown considerably lately.

Some interesting things could be written on the vicissitudes of the work in our out-towns where we have no workers stationed; the various activities in the main stations; Bible reading; women's meetings; children's meetings; tract distribution; propaganda by means of amplifiers, all dedicated to the same purpose, of bringing the Gospel to the people.

This report would not be complete without mentioning the visit of the General Secretary of our Mission Board. It was a real blessing and pleasure to have Bro. Yoder with us. What the visit meant to us is expressed in the following letter to the Mission Board:

"On behalf of our native workers as well as five hundred Argentine Mennonite brethren and sisters from twenty-two congregations, we wish to express our sincere gratitude to the Board for the official visit of the Secretary, Bro. S. C. Yoder.

"We appreciate especially his sympathetic attitude toward our problems, his wise counsel for which his years of experience have well fitted him, his spiritual messages to encourage us in these trying times, as well as his example of patience to inspire us.

"We wish to tell you especially that the Argentine congregations have appreciated this official visit. Bro. Yoder's presence helped them in a special way to acknowledge many times their debt toward the home church and has also given new assurance to the Argentine brethren of the General Board's continued interest in them.

"For all this we give God the glory, and in view of this unusual blessing and correspondingly greater responsibility we pledge ourselves anew to loyalty and faithfulness to GOD and the church through which we serve Him. Thank you, brethren, for every consideration.

In His name,
The Missionaries."

A word should be said about local political conditions. In last year's report reference was made to the continual and well-planned propaganda of the Roman Church, seeking to make it harder all the time for evangelical work, for our children in public school, and for any of our people who should have anything to do with the state. A few months ago the provincial government was "intervened," which means deposed, by the Federal Government, and a Federal commissioner was given charge of the whole province. There is a little more tolerance now, and we rejoice in this fact. We do not know, however, just how long this situation will last, since it is abnormal politically.

What gives rise, at times, to most disheartening emotions is the news from Europe and North America. We can say with much emphasis that up to the present Argentina has taken a most sensible and unprejudiced attitude of neutrality. The government is very careful to stay neutral, for which we are glad. Hard times and economic instability seem to be at our doors, in spite of surplus crops, since so little is being exported. In all these things we can only look up and trust Him, who is the same yesterday, today, and forever. Brethren, pray for us.

MEXICAN MISSION WORK IN COLORADO

By Elsa Shank Castillo

"And ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth."

It is our sincere desire that the following report will help give you a clearer vision of our need of obeying this command, by taking the Gospel, not only to foreign lands, but also to those so near us who do not know our Saviour.

Most of our western towns and cities have a large population of Spanish-speaking people. Many have come from Mexico. Others are descendants of the original Spaniards who settled this country when it still belonged to Spain. Like many other groups of peoples, they have kept their original language.

These people all profess Catholicism. They believe they are Christians, for they were baptized when babies and they took their first communion. That is enough according to their teachings. But their lives show that they are far from being Christians. They need the pure Gospel which transforms lives.

A Short History

In a way, this is not a new field. For many years Bro. Will Nunemaker, with the co-operation of the Holbrook Church had been conducting a mission Sunday school for the Spanish people of Cheraw. However, the time came when it was thought advisable to do some definite evangelistic work among these people, and so it was that in November, 1939, Bro. David Castillo conducted a series of meetings in which seven were converted. Then the brethren here realized the need of continuing the work begun.

In La Junta for more than 20 years the Baptists had been working among the Spanish people. But it seems they had no one who could give the time and effort needed to the work. Especially was this true the last few years. Their Sunday school was attended by eight or ten people. The few Christians remaining were completely discouraged. The Baptists themselves asked the Mennonite Church to take over the work. So the La Junta and Holbrook Churches asked the Mission Board for our transfer here, to do definite missionary work in this district. We came in August, 1940.

Our Present Work

When we arrived here, the majority of the Mexican people of Cheraw were away, working in the beet and onion fields, because there was no work here for them; so there wasn't very much that we could do either.

For that reason we decided to get our work started in La Junta. Sunday morning, September 29, we began Sunday school in the Mexican Baptist Church with 84 present. (This church belongs to the Baptist Conference and they desire to sell it. The Mennonite Mission Board is seeing what can be done about buying it.) Bro. Isaac Kulp, a very consecrated and enthusiastic Christian, sells his watermelons in La Junta, and knows many Spanish people. We attribute much of our success in Sunday school to his untiring efforts in bringing the children.

As soon as the Catholic priest found out about this big Sunday school he, too, got busy. He sent women to see who came and then sent word to their homes that the children had to quit coming or he would not give them their first communion. To one who knows no better, that is quite serious; so many kept their children away. Consequently our attendance dropped some, but we still have a lovely group of children and quite a few adults to whom we are imparting the Bread of Life. Several nurses are helping as teachers.

The church service on Sunday evening is well attended with 50 to 70 present. Some will come at night, because then they are not so afraid of being seen. On Wednesday evening, we have Bible Study and Prayer Meeting. Every other Wednesday afternoon we have a meeting for the women. We want to help the women in their home life and also reach some women who cannot come so well at night.

We had discontinued the Cheraw Sunday school for a while, taking the few who were here along to La Junta. On December 1, 1940, in the afternoon we began Sunday school again with thirty present.

As we look around, we see that we are doing a very small bit of work. All around us are towns with large Mexican populations where the Gospel is not being preached. To these also we should like to go. But we know our own limitations, that we can only be at one place at a time and so, for the time being, we will dedicate our time to the Mexican people of La Junta and Cheraw. They need much shepherding. Pray for us and our people!

La Junta, Colorado.

MENNONITE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

By Chester K. Lehman

The Mennonite Central Committee, organized in 1920 for the purpose of doing relief work in South Russia and since that time functioning as the American Mennonite agency for foreign relief, assumed a larger role of activity since the outbreak of World War II. The activities for the year 1940 take their beginning September 29, 1939, when the committee undertook an European War Sufferers' Relief Project which has been carried on in increasing dimensions during the year.

The Brethren M. C. Lehman and Amos Swartzendruber were appointed as commissioners to Europe for investigation and report of needs and opportunities for relief work in the several warring countries. Bro. Lehman went to Germany and found that a great need especially in the way of milk, lard, and insulin, existed in Poland. Remaining in Germany, he organized relief projects for Poland. Milk was purchased in large quantities from adjacent neutral countries. Recently, a new channel for supplying relief was worked out in the way of sending food packets from Berlin to needy folks in Poland whose names and addresses are supplied to Bro. Lehman by the Brethren B. H. Unruh and Michael Horsch. These packets are being made up in Berlin by interested people and sent free of charge to their destinations. This is proving a convenient and effective method of giving help.

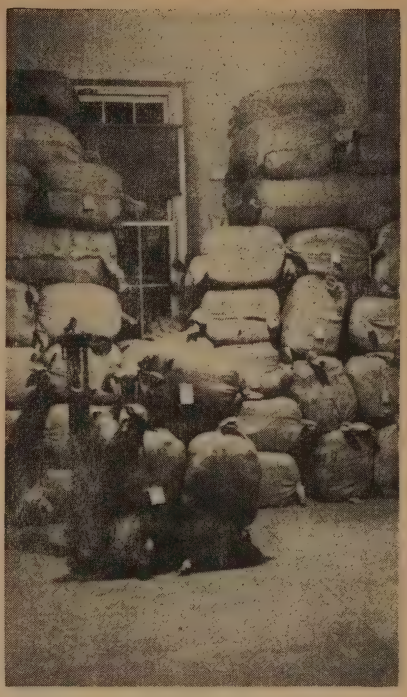
Bro. Swartzendruber investigated the needs of England and France and on his return to this country recommended that relief projects be organized in these countries. Bro. Ernest Bennett, who had spent a year in Spain, consented to take up the work in France and has been carrying on projects at Marseilles, Perpignan, Toulouse, Cerbere, Lyons, and Banyuls. His work has been that of caring for refugee children, distribution of clothing to Belgian and French refugees, and of operating canteens for food distribution. On Bro. Bennett's return to this country his work will be taken over by Henry Wiens who has been assisting him during the past few months. Bro. Alvin Burkholder of Upland, California, of the Brethren in Christ Church, is under appointment to serve in France and will leave after New Year.

Ted Claassen sailed for France the last of April, and after studying the needs there with Bennett left for England for further investigation of possible relief projects there. For a while contributions were made to the "Save the Children Fund." Later he assumed responsibility for feeding 100 Polish boys who fled to England. John Coffman of Vineland, Ontario, joined Claassen in November and will continue when the latter returns to this country.

Bro. H. S. Bender spent two months, July and August, in Europe for the purpose of inspecting the work and of laying plans for the winter's relief program. He speaks very commendably of the work of our brethren and gives a graphic picture of Europe's needs.



A Stack of Baled Clothing

A special effort is being made to contact Mennonite refugees and those in need. Our brethren are constantly seeking new places for lending help. They feel especially qualified for carrying on smaller projects which may be overlooked by the larger organizations but which may reveal conditions as acute as the larger ones. Larger objectives of relief work in Europe include the paving of the way for giving a more direct testimony for the nonresistant faith after the war is over. It is hoped that people will turn from the horrors of the way of hatred, greed, jealousy, and ambition, to that of the love way as taught in the Scriptures. Should we not think of missions to Europe for the purpose of promulgating true Biblical Christianity?

A clothing program was conducted from the Akron, Pennsylvania, office resulting in the collection of approximately 20½ tons of new and used clothing and shoes together with soap valued at $36,255.27, not including 2500 pounds gathered at Winnipeg with the evaluation of $3000. The collecting was done at Kalona, Ia., Scottdale, Pa., Elkhart, Ind., and at the Mellingers and Ephrata (old building) churches in Lancaster Co., Pa. Four shipments were made during the year to England and France, but the way is closed at present for sending the 16½ tons that remain. It is hoped that ere this reaches the eye of the reader the door will be opened for getting these things to their destination.

In order to purchase food supplies for distribution by the relief workers, a heavy financial budget was set up, beginning at $2,500 per month in November, 1939, and increasing to $10,000 per month by September, 1940. The total amount contributed by the cooperating groups from December 1, 1939, to November 30, 1940, was $42,284.27, of which $12,787.30 was forwarded to Poland, $12,582.69 to France, and $14,216.84 to England.

The Mennonite Central Committee seized the opportunity of having Bro. Sanford Yoder call on the Mennonite Colony in Paraguay in connection with his official visit to the Mennonite Mission in the Argentine. He found that the colony had enjoyed a normal harvest and that a number of the folks there were building new homes. His presence was very much appreciated especially as he lent assistance to them in the solution of some of their serious problems.

Another large sphere of service was laid upon the Mennonite Central Committee when they were asked to administer the civilian service program for the Mennonite conscientious objectors. In disposing of this responsibility an effort was made to keep the Mennonite constituencies informed concerning the details of registration and of making proper application for exemption from military training as conscientious objectors. The Mennonite Central Committee is represented on the National Council for Civilian Service which has opened an office in Washington and whose executive secretary is the agent for contact with the Selective Service Administration. The details of organization are rapidly being worked out so as to be in readiness for the first boys to be called to alternate service. Thus there is opening up to the committee a sphere of service the dimensions of which will be understood only after the administration of the selective service act is in full swing.

UNDER THE SOUTHERN CROSS

By Sanford Calvin Yoder, Secretary Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

Far to the south beneath a constellation of stars known as the Southern Cross lies a country whose pagan cultures were old and hoary before Columbus discovered America and added these vast expanses of land to the domain of Ferdinand and Isabelle of Spain. Through the efforts of adventurers, freebooters and soldiers of fortune, the inhabitants of this great Continent—South America—were subdued and brought under the political control of the Mother country. Priests and monks followed in the train of the army of conquerors and rested beneath its banners. These men brought to the natives a religion that even in those days had lost its vitality and had in it the elements of decay. Being transplanted to strange soil, far removed from its homeland, it escaped the purifying influence of the fires of the Reformation and never became the vital regenerating force it should have been among our neighbors to the South. Out of this church came vast cathedrals and institutions, an elaborate ceremonialism and pageantry but not much in the way of spiritual power. Within the last one hundred years, missionaries of all denominations have gone into this land of opportunity and need to bring to the people the Gospel of Christ, which is the light and life of men and the power of God unto salvation to every one who believes. In 1917 a small group of Mennonite missionaries joined that illustrious company of godly men—Penzotti, Torre, McGlaughlin, Drees, and others—who opened the doors and paved the way for the Word of the Lord to come in.

In the beginning the work was hard, the prejudice great, and the interest small. Religious bigotry, national and racial pride were encountered on every hand. Indifference and unbelief stalked side by side throughout the land and presented seemingly impossible barriers to those who preached the Gospel of our Lord.

But "faith is the victory that overcomes the world!" The Lord honored His Word and ere the first year had passed souls began to come and the nucleus of the Argentine Mennonite Church was founded. They have been coming ever since—the Cavadores, the Polemeque family, the Polumbo sisters, Don Cosme and Dona Carmen, Dona Ulpiana, Dona Juana and hosts of others are in that group whose names would be a credit to the register of any church and whose lives are a constant witness to the saving grace of Christ their Redeemer. These and many others can never cease to thank their brethren to the North for bringing them the Gospel. Then there is the group of pastors—Albana Luayza and family, Pablo Cavadore and his faithful wife, Feliciano Gorjon and his noble helpmeet, Carlos Barbosa and his able companion—whose faith and devotion bring strength and power to the Church they serve.

But there is another group we cannot pass by—the younger people who have given up opportunities for good positions to serve their Master in a humble way. There is Anita Cavadore who has spent the last twenty years of her life reading the Bible from house to house and is now in charge of a station at 30 de Agosto, there is Quintina Guttierrez who directs the work at Passo, and Elvira Arminino who visits the members in Buenos Aires while preparing herself for the nursing profession. Ernesto Piñeyro and his faithful wife have charge of the Orphans' Home at Bragado and Brother Battaglia has given years of his time to the operation of the printery at Trenque Lauquen.

Then there is a host of others whose faith, whose devotion, and kindness to me while among them, make them fellow Christians and brothers and sisters indeed. May God bless them and their children throughout all the generations of the future with the joys and blessing that come through faith and consecration to the cause of the Lord. The memories of my visit to the Church in Argentina, the friendships I made and the fellowship I enjoyed will always be to me a source of abiding joy and inspiration.

But it would be unfair to close an article like this without a word of tribute to those who have gone out from us to bring the Gospel of Christ to Argentina. Their work is not easy; in fact it is very difficult. They are confronted with problems concerning which we know but little. They are laboring on from day to day and from year to year sowing and planting and watering and building. Sometimes their labors seem fruitless and their efforts vain when viewed over a short span of time, but when looked at from the viewpoint of twenty years the results are encouraging. During the period of their ministry as missionaries the number of churches has increased from one to twenty-three. The membership has grown from seven to almost six hundred and the Sunday schools now number between twenty-five and thirty with an enrollment approximating eight hundred. Besides this the missionaries, by their patience, their Christian forbearance and testimony, have broken down the barriers of suspicion and prejudice and have won the confidence of the saved and unsaved alike. The work is hard but the future is promising and the rewards for faithfulness are great.

May God bless them and their work!

ACTIVITIES OF THE EASTERN MENNONITE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHARITIES
1940

By Henry F. Garber, President

As we look back over 1940, it seems that most of our time has been taken up with routine matters. Providing workers and supplying their material needs form a large part of the duties of the Board. The blessing of God has been upon this work in many ways.

At the Philadelphia Mission, Bro. Clarence Fretz was ordained to the ministry for the work there. He and his bride (formerly Lela Eshleman) are now located there as pastor and superintendent.

Because of Sister Ruth Mosemann's health, the Mosemanns have not yet returned to Africa, but they have in the meantime been given the oversight of the Philadelphia Colored Mission. Plans are being made to move this work into a more suitable district in the city.

During the year a new church building was erected for the Marietta Mission. The old church building was crowded and inconvenient. The new building will be dedicated Jan. 5, 1941. It is a substantial brick building and ought to be a real help for the work there.

At the Coatesville Mission, Frank Stoltzfus, the superintendent, was ordained to the ministry by lot. This ideal arrangement of pastor superintendent ought to be a means of furthering the work there.

On the African field the work continues to be encouraging. Recently, Simeon Hurst and Edna Schmeidendorf Hurst, his wife, were sent to the field as new missionaries. Dr. Lillie Shenk and Sister Elma Hershberger are now home on furlough. This leaves 21 missionaries on the field now, including two doctors and two registered nurses. There are also eleven missionaries' children on the field. Baptized Christians now number almost two hundred. There are about eighteen outschools in charge of native Christians.

One new main station was opened during the year at Nyabasi. It will likely prove to be the most healthful location of the five main stations. A growing medical work is reported at this station by Dr. Mack.

The war has not seriously affected the work of the missionaries. Gasoline is rationed, communication is much delayed, and the costs of food and materials have risen considerably. Up to this writing, no bombing or fighting has taken place in Tanganyika. But this war between so-called Christian nations cannot help but arouse many questions in the minds of the native Christians.

On Dec. 4 a large gathering of new and used clothing was made for European War Sufferers' Relief. This amounted to about 118 bales of clothing and shoes.

The church has responded well to the appeals for funds for war relief. In a general way funds for all purposes have increased almost 30% over 1939. We rejoice in this practical evidence of the sense of Christian responsibility among the brotherhood.

As your representatives we solicit your prayers in this great task of the church and your material support as the Lord prospers you. "Hitherto hath the Lord helped."

THE AFRICA MISSION IN 1940

By J. E. Leatherman

The general uncertainty brought about by the increased hostilities in Europe has reimpressed the African Mission personnel with the constant need of putting first things first in missions. Concerning the future of foreign mission work, doubt is looming on the horizon. It is clear that unless fundamental issues are concentrated on, a sudden stopping of missionary work may mean also the break-up of the native church which has been born out of many tears and great labor. If the European missionary is compelled to withdraw and the native church promptly sinks back to heathenism, clearly he has been at fault.

One of the things of first importance is concentration on the need for church members who have experienced supernatural changes in their lives. The bonds of heathenism are not broken by a mere assent to Christian doctrine. A writer in a missionary periodical of considerable prominence has said: "The majority of mission adherents are not outstanding for saintliness of character." One of the means we employ in trying to counteract the cause for such criticism is to postpone the baptism of professed believers in an effort to eliminate the many who look upon affiliation with the "white man's religion" as a step to better social standing, and who also, because of their superstitious background regard baptism as another kind of "medicine" which is especially effective because administered by a European. Natives have actually referred to baptism as "the water of Europe." Facts of this nature are food for thought. The policy of the mission has been to baptize no one until he has given convincing evidence that he is a true disciple of Christ.

Because of the great importance of the indigenous church, the mission has been giving considerable thought to the proper application of indigenous ideals and methods. The aim of these is toward self-support, self-propagation, self-government, and the perpetuation of a Biblical standard of righteousness in the church fellowship. To reach these goals means that institutional work must be kept at a minimum. Elaborate church and school buildings, and that, built with European funds, a cumbersome system of church polity and order, complicated school organization with curricula designed to compare favorably with government school syllabuses to the neglect of the spiritual emphasis, the introduction of a standard of living that is not essentially Christian but merely European, all these and others we have felt are inconsistent with an indigenous program and contrary to the New Testament ideal for missions as set forth by the apostles. The African Mission has aimed to discourage any practice or method that the native church itself cannot maintain.

Plans and a beginning have been made for the producing of a literature for the use of the native Christians. Two booklets have been produced in Swahili, one, an instruction book in elementary Christian principles, and the other concerning the Christian life. A bimonthly gazette called "The Ambassador of Christ" is being printed and circulated. A catechism book, a church history course, a course of uniform Bible study for the station and outschools, and a Kijita songbook are under preparation. We have received considerable encouragement from our native leaders in this work, as they, too, realize the importance of the printed page.

On all sides we see great need for revival, for a deep sense of sin and need, for a mighty crying to God for pardon and cleansing. There are, of course, great reasons for gratitude. Each Sunday throughout the year the Gospel has been proclaimed from over twenty-two centers. The church membership now stands at 130. The number under instruction is over 300, and the number who are almost daily under the influence of the Gospel in the station and outschools is over 500. Human statistics are faulty, however. They seldom encompass all that God sees. We believe it is our right to expect, not merely signs of the Spirit's working, but mighty works.

The Lord's benediction has rested upon the witness in Africa. May we do nothing to mar that approval, but everything in our power to receive the fullness of His blessing.

THE MENNONITE BOARD OF EDUCATION DURING THE YEAR 1940

By C. F. Yake, Secretary

The work of the Mennonite Board of Education relates itself particularly to the supervision of the administration of Goshen College, and Hesston College and Bible School. The work of the Board is of course the work of the church which elects the members.

Each district church conference has one (or more) representative; these representatives, together with those chosen by the General Conference, and the presidents and business managers of the colleges, which are ex officio members, comprise the trustees of the Board. At the close of the annual board meeting in 1940, the number of trustees was thirty-six. These collectively are responsible for the direction of the higher educational work of the church.

The direction of this higher educational work is no small task, for upon our church schools rests the responsibility of educating, vocationally and spiritually, our own young people as well as such others who come under our influence. Today the majority of our Mennonite young people are completing high school locally; many are taking academy work in either Hesston College or Eastern Mennonite School instead of going to local high school. There are advantages obviously on both sides, but the point to be noted here is that from this great number of Mennonite young people who complete either high school or academy there are many who desire to go to college to train for the vocation of their choice. The church is confronted with the problem of furnishing this training under Christian environment and instruction, or the problem of meeting the consequences of her young people's going to non-Christian or other church schools to secure it. She has chosen to do the former, and rightly so. As such she has committed herself to a challenging task which falls upon the Board to direct.

Mennonite young people who come from high school to one of our church colleges, and nonchurch members likewise, find themselves in an environment that is vastly different. The teachers of our colleges are Christian teachers with a decidedly Christian interest in the students. The gathering of several hundred Mennonites from all sections of the church upon a college campus creates a Mennonite family group of cosmopolitan nature. This group belongs to the church at large, so to say, and these young people are there to be trained in a church-wide Christian citizenship of vast importance, as well as to be trained vocationally. This task becomes the task of the administration and the faculty in a primary sense, but the task of the Board in seeing that this work is rightly performed is no less primary and no less important. It is a large task, difficult to be accomplished, and requires the whole-hearted and prayerful support of every member of the church, as well as the judicious and intelligent Christian dispatch of every Board member's duty.

The Lord has richly blessed the work of the past decades, in spite of the mistakes that may have been made; He has likewise richly blessed the work of the past year in spite of the fact that there are obviously places where we might have done better by doing otherwise or not doing. It is a pleasure to give Him the praise and honor for what has been accomplished for the furtherance of the work of our schools.

Between the annual board meetings it becomes the task of the Executive Committee to dispatch the work devolved upon the Board. Throughout the year there has been constantly a faithful colaboration between the administrations of our colleges and the committee. The work at Hesston College has been richly blessed, and progress is being made. The enrollment is slightly beyond 175, and is higher this year than last year. The college is operating on a pay-as-you-go policy, and efforts are being made to improve its services to the church in every way possible.

Since June of 1940 Goshen College has the first time in its history had a separate library building—Goshen College Memorial Library. It is a real asset to the students and college, and will prove more so as the number of volumes is enlarged and all the necessary equipment provided. The building also houses the Archives of the Mennonite Church, and the Goshen College Historical Library.

On June 10, 1940, Ernest E. Miller was inaugurated president of Goshen

College to succeed Sanford C. Yoder who is being retained as instructor in the Bible department of the college. The enrollment is 333, including evening students. This is larger than last year. Gradual progress has been and is being made toward entrance into the North Central Association of Colleges, and efforts are being put forth to endeavor to meet the further requirements that seem to be necessary at this time (Dec. 27, 1940) to pass the entrance examination sometime early in 1941. If entrance is secured, Goshen College will be listed among the colleges of this association as fully accredited. Such accredited standing of the college will give to every graduate therefrom a diploma that will be accepted at any other higher institution of learning without question and without any penalization. Since such entrance to the association in no way affects the ideals which the church aims to maintain in her colleges, all of us will rejoice upon the successful attainment of this accreditment goal.

The debt of the Board is slowly being reduced under the present policy of college administration of both Hesston and Goshen, and it is hoped, D. V., that in course of time the debt may be entirely liquidated. Improvements on the campuses are constantly being made, but without increasing the Board's obligations. Constant and constructive effort is being put forth to have and maintain a fine Christian atmosphere in our schools, and to send forth therefrom graduates who will further the cause of Christ and the Church wherever and in whatever vocation they may be called to serve.

It is the aim of the Board to have our colleges on a high educational standard, as high as the best of colleges can have, and at the same time have a Christian atmosphere and promote primarily the interests of Christ and the Church by developing the spiritual life of the students. Scottdale, Pa.

GOSHEN COLLEGE MEMORIAL LIBRARY AND MENNONITE ARCHIVES

John C. Wenger

After the daily chapel service on Wednesday, September 13, 1939, Goshen College faculty and students proceeded to a plot south of the administration Building for a ground-breaking ceremony. After brief addresses by H. S. Bender and C. L. Graber, S. C. Yoder turned the first spadeful of earth, thereby inaugurating the work of erecting a new library building authorized by Mennonite Board of Education. President Yoder then turned the project over to Contractor Ira C. Mast of Elkhart, Indiana. The building was designed by the firm of Austin and Shambleay of South Bend, Indiana. The building committee consisted of D. D. Miller, E. J. Yoder, C. L. Graber, H. S. Bender, S. C. Yoder, and D. A. Yoder. Construction of the building went forward during the winter of 1939-40, and the library was formally dedicated on Saturday, June 8, 1940.

The Goshen College Memorial Library and Mennonite Archives, Gosnen, Indiana

Memorial Library is constructed along Georgian colonial lines. It is fireproof throughout. The ground floor contains one level of stacks, two archives rooms, Mennonite Historical Library, a receiving room, and lavatories. First floor contains a reading room with capacity for 130 readers, the librarian's office, a work room for preparing books for use, and the second level of stacks where the remainder of the library's 18,000 books stand on steel shelves. The second floor contains two seminar rooms, a storeroom, and three special study rooms. The two seminar rooms are permanent, but the remaining second-floor space will be utilized for a third level of stacks whenever the library contains a sufficient number of books to make necessary such change. The capacity of Memorial Library is 50,000 volumes. It should thus care for the needs of Goshen College students and faculty for many years to come. The books were transferred to the new library on July 3, 1940.

At the dedication program on June 8, 1940, Orie O. Miller served as chairman and H. S. Bender gave the main address. Dean Bender pointed out how indispensable a library now is in the work of a college. The books are not on the shelves for adornment, but are there to be used. Much educational preparation concerns training in the selection and use of books. The effective teacher of the future therefore will increasingly use books in his teaching.

It would be difficult to overestimate the debt Goshen College owes to the Mennonite Church for providing it with adequate library facilities. No longer is there insufficient room for books and readers. No longer are the precious possessions of the library threatened with possible fire-loss by being housed in a building which is not of fireproof construction. The new reading room has sufficient space for reference works and files of bound periodicals, as well as for the 265 periodicals currently received. The building is equipped with pleasant Venetian blinds. A Westminster chime sounds the class hours. The building is lighted with fluorescent lights, bluish in color, most closely resembling daylight. To the church which has given us Memorial Library we want to say a hearty "Thank You."

As indicated above, the basement of the library contains two rooms which have been allotted to the Historical Committee of Mennonite General Conference. These rooms measure about 11 x 21 feet and 17 x 25 feet respectively. Almost $500 has been spent to date in equipping the smaller room to house our church archives. Here will be stored official and private records, books and correspondence, minute books, valuable documents and records. These materials will all be catalogued and through an index will be available for reference purposes. The Historical Committee is attempting to raise ten per cent of the cost of Memorial Library in return for this free space, lighting, and janitor service. This ten per cent amounts to $5000. Approximately two-thirds of the Historical Committee's quota has been raised at this writing.

The program dedicating the archives of the Mennonite Church was held on Sunday, June 9, 1940. J. S. Hartzler, pioneer Mennonite educator, conducted the devotional service; Paul Erb delivered the main address; S. F. Coffman, chairman of the Historical Committee, conducted the dedicatory ceremony; and H. S. Bender explained the plan of operation of the archives. G. F. Hershberger and the committee members present, gave brief addresses.

The archives equipment purchased to date includes steel shelving, over 1,000 pasteboard boxes, 5000 filing folders (for letters and documents), a four-drawer steel file, and a steel chair and desk.

Too long has the Mennonite Church had no archives in which to deposit for safekeeping its valuable minute books, correspondence of boards and individuals, and the like. Consequently, priceless treasures have been stored away in attics only to be destroyed in later years. Such tragedies are no longer necessary. Anyone may deposit or donate valuable papers and records to the church archives, where they will be well cared for. Interested officials and individuals should correspond with H. S. Bender, Secretary of the Historical Committee, Goshen, Indiana.

EASTERN MENNONITE SCHOOL

By D. W. Lehman, Acting Dean and Registrar

Good news is always a pleasure to report. "The Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad." He has granted us blessings, many of which could not be measured for magnitude. Prayers have ascended in behalf of the work. These results are incommensurable, too. May all credit for any good accomplished be given to the Source of all blessings.

The School may be said to consist of trustees, faculty, students—regular and special Bible term—patrons, alumni, donors, prayer supporters, buildings and ground, libraries, laboratories, instruction, guidance, curricular and co-curricular activities, etc.

The Board of Trustees has continued to serve faithfully in many ways, such as approving plans for the building program, policies of the School in general, etc. For the educational success of the School and the spiritual welfare of the young people, they, too, have cooperated in every way.

Two new members were added to the faculty this year to serve in the Bible and Art departments in place of two others, one of whom was granted a year's leave of absence. All our teachers feel very keenly the responsibility placed upon them. A loyal, conservative group of teachers who are willing to champion the doctrines and principles of the Word and the Mennonite Church is a prerequisite to a truly successful Mennonite Church school.

This year we have been blest with the largest enrollment of regular students in the history of the School. Thus far over 260 have registered. Of these, 62 are in college; 41, in High School Bible; and 157, in High School. The following states and one province are represented: Delaware, Indiana, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Ontario.

At this writing the Special Bible Term is close at hand, at which time we expect an additional group for six weeks. A year ago 77 were registered for the Special Bible Term. An advanced course is offered in addition to the six-year cycle.

Many anxious mothers and fathers find in the church school a kind of refuge for their children from the worldly state schools. In some respects the parents are almost as closely knit to the School as are the children whom they send. Since 1917 a second generation has grown up. Many young people are in school this year whose parents attended here in the early history of the School.

The Alumni now number 725. The most recent noble work done by them is their liberal donation toward the new north wing. They have not only left a gift to the School on graduation, but have contributed in the present building program. The 1940 class beautified the hill to the west of the School by planting over 400 trees of 100 kinds.

During the summer and part of the school year several representatives of the School were soliciting funds for the above-mentioned annex. Over half of the estimated cost has been subscribed.

To our many prayer supporters we wish to extend a word of appreciation and thanks with a request to continue to "pray without ceasing."

The pressing need for more classroom space brought about a much-appreciated two-room annex to our Home Economics building by the quick action of our school board. This structure was erected before and during the opening days of school in September last. The south room is used chiefly for art classes while the north room will find groups of practically every department of the School. It also provides a place for music groups, literaries, and Junior Young People's Bible Meetings. Cooking and sewing have been continued in the original building.

This year we have again added to both library and laboratories. These places become real workshops for most students.

In instruction and guidance, efforts have been made to improve. The former is constantly before us in our monthly professional meetings, supervision, etc., and the latter in the full-time services of both a Dean of Women and a school nurse. Guidance is also given in many private interviews with students in educational as well as spiritual matters. The annual intelligence test, health inspection, and the fuller medical examination may be included here, too.

This year we have organized an evening class in College Astronomy, meeting weekly for three hours under the capable leadership of our school astronomer. Requests have come for a class in Hebrew. Typing and Industrial Arts have both been very popular courses in high school. The departments of Eastern Mennonite School are as follows: Bible School, Junior College, High School, and Bible Correspondence School. Co-curricular activities include such groups as Avian, Astral, Scriblerus, Nature, Literary, Musical groups, etc.

In conclusion, the year has been a prosperous one in the Lord.

ACTIVITIES OF THE MENNONITE PUBLICATION BOARD AND THE MENNONITE PUBLISHING HOUSE FOR 1940

By O. N. Johns, Secretary of the Board

The Mennonite Publication Board ordinarily meets biennially, but at the last biennial meeting it was decided to have a special meeting of the Board at Scottdale, Pa., sometime during 1940.

The purpose of such a meeting was to get all Board members and representatives to the Publishing House so that they might acquaint themselves more fully with the work of the Board through the House. The Board paid the traveling expenses involved in the meeting, which amounted to approximately $650.00. All felt this amount was well invested.

The Executive Committee arranged a program, and the meeting was held at Scottdale, May 18-21, in the New Mennonite Church building.

On Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon and evening preliminary, inspirational services were held, which served well as a preparation for the regular Board Meeting, the first subject being, "Worship before Work."

This meeting being held near the Publishing House gave a splendid opportunity to display our own literature in comparison with that of other religious publishing concerns. Our tracts were especially displayed in this way, showing the color scheme of many of the other tracts, making them attractive so that people will take them and read them.

The place of the meeting also gave opportunity to demonstrate the process through which our publications must go from the time they get into the editor's hands until they get to the reader. This gave the Board members a more adequate conception of the amount of work that is involved in publishing a book or magazine.

During the meeting subjects of a practical type, revealing the chief concerns of both House and Board were discussed by qualified speakers.

The Board is endeavoring to produce more good, sound and wholesome literature by our own (Mennonite) authors. The progress along this line has been splendid.

The following books were written by Mennonite authors and published by the Mennonite Publishing House during the year 1940:

The World Goal of Bible Missions—Irvin E. Burkhart.

Mennonite Pioneers—John Umble.

Can Christians Fight?—Guy F. Hershberger.

The Menace of the Movies—Irvin E. Burkhart.

Bible Teaching on Nonconformity—Twelve Brethren.

Glimpses of Mennonite History—John C. Wenger.

Mennonite Sunday School Centennial—Harold S. Bender.

Talks with Our Young People—John W. Weaver, assisted by Margaret Horst.

Personal Work—Milo Kauffman.

Christian Ideals—Committee of Virginia Conference.

Outstanding books not our own publications but written by Mennonite authors and printed by the Publishing House during the year are as follows:

For Conscience Sake—S. C. Yoder.

Rosanna of the Amish—J. W. Yoder.

Please note also a change in the attractiveness of our tracts and some of the other productions.

The House is doing less commercial work in order to facilitate these other more important productions. The four linotype machines are kept very busy most of the time. Sometimes they are operated more than one shift each day.

We are not only increasing the production of our literature, but with it are trying to improve the quality of our present productions, and increase the distribution of the same.

We have four branch bookstores: one at Lancaster, Pa.; one at New Holland, Pa.; one at Souderton, Pa.; and one at Kitchener, Ont.

The one at Lancaster has moved two doors south into larger headquarters. The former building is now for sale.

We have requests for establishing bookstores in other communities where the Mennonite constituency is strong. These requests are being given consideration, but we do not want to start more of these branch stores than we feel we can operate successfully.

We have a general sales agent in the field most of the time, Bro. Floyd Shank, also a number of district agents who give only a part of their time to this work. These are local men appointed through local Conferences. This with our new tract set-up should prove to be quite an asset to the work of the Board and House.

There have been repeated requests for a new magazine (church paper) giving more emphasis to prophetical teaching, but it is the opinion of the Executive Committee of the Board and House that such a publication is not advisable for the present. However, in a joint meeting of the Executive and Publishing committees of the Board, the question of the fairness in our publications on points or teachings where there is a divided opinion and upon which the church has not declared herself was discussed. The sentiment expressed was, that there should be fairness shown by presenting both sides on such questions but not in a controversial manner.

Bro. Daniel Kauffman was given some editorial help on the Gospel Herald. The publication of the German Almanac was discontinued. A little change was made in the organization of the House.

Another matter of interest is the recent adoption of a press name for use on material that does not have any particular denomination emphasis and which might have a wider circulation by eliminating the denominational name of the House. We believe the "Herald Press" was a happy selection of such a press name.

While there are problems associated with this work as well as all other, yet the publication work of the Church through the Board and the House has realized the blessings of the Lord in a remarkable way.

The workers at the House in general have been working faithfully and patiently for the interests of the cause in general.

This is the Lord's work. It is our (the Church) work, for we are laborers together with Him.

We can help by remembering the work at the throne of grace, patronizing the House and branch bookstores, keeping our subscriptions paid up to date, distributing literature (tracts, The Way, etc.), sending in real good articles for printing, and the like.

We thank the Church for her past co-operation and our prayer is that it may continue and that the Lord's blessings upon the work might also continue.

PEACE PROBLEMS COMMITTEE YEAR

By Harold S. Bender

The second World War with all its tragic prospects, has brought with it many problems for the Mennonite Church, both in the United States and in Canada. Canada declared war in September, 1939. The United States is still at peace, but deeply committed to aid the British Empire win the war. Thus the problems facing the Church in the two countries are somewhat different, yet fundamentally the same. We desire to continue as loyal, obedient citizens, yet maintain our four-hundred-year-old peace principles of refraining from all participation in war. It is the duty of the Peace Problems Committee as appointed by General Conference to represent the Church in its relation to government, while at the same time assisting in promoting directly our own nonresistant faith, strengthening the brotherhood and preparing it to meet the issues as they come.

The Canadian section of the committee is directly responsible for the work in Canada. The Canadian government introduced conscription during the year, but remained true to its historic attitude of freedom of conscience for conscientious objectors. The compulsory training period for draftees is only thirty days. Plans are being worked out for a similar period of service for conscientious objectors. The government at Ottawa has been very considerate and generous in its dealings with the nonresistant churches, and the committee is confident that all problems can be handled in a reasonable and satisfactory way as they arise.

Conscription was not adopted as a national policy in the United States until August, 1940. However, as adopted, it was more severe than in Canada, since it provided for a year of training. Anticipating that conscription might be introduced, the United States section of the committee had been preparing for such an eventuality for some time. In October, 1939, a representative meeting of church leaders held at Goshen, Indiana, approved the plans of the committee to prepare for some form of alternative service under church direction if conscription should be introduced, and to co-operate with other nonresistant bodies in presenting our position to the President and to other officials in Washington. A statement of position was accordingly presented to the President, the Attorney-General, and the Secretary of War, on January 10, 1940. The delegation which made the presentation was encouraged by the friendly attitude of the officials who professed a desire to protect the rights of conscience.

The committee continued its efforts to secure recognition for our position in connection with the legislation which was introduced in Congress in July, namely the Burke-Wadsworth Bill, and feels that it was largely due to the persistent efforts of the nonresistant bodies that the bill as finally passed did provide for complete exemption from all forms of military service, both combatant and noncombatant, for sincere conscientious objectors. As a substitute for military service, the law provides that conscientious objectors shall be assigned to "work of national importance under civilian direction." It is a matter for deep gratitude that this generous provision was made a part of the law, and the committee has endeavored to work loyally with the government in working out plans for the civilian service which will be satisfactory to the church as well as to the government.

As this is being written (January 1, 1941) plans have been approved by both the Selective Service Administration and the President, also by representative officials of the Church, for a series of work camps for Mennonite conscientious objectors, in which soil conservation will be the service of "national importance." For the present at least, the church will provide the entire cost of the camps, as well as the personnel to direct the same. The Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture will furnish the technical directors of the work, also the equipment, and have general supervision of the work. It is estimated that the first six months of the program will cost the Church $50,000. This budget will be carried by all the branches of Mennonites together, and will require approximately fifty cents per member for the six months' period January 1 to July 1, 1941. The Mennonite Central Committee has been authorized by the co-operating Mennonite groups to operate the civilian service program for the entire church. Orie Miller, as executive secretary of the Mennonite Central Committee, will be in direct charge of the work. John H. Mosemann has been appointed as director of the first camp, which is to be located at Grottoes, about twenty-five miles from Harrisonburg, Virginia. Other camps will be established in other sections as rapidly as needed.

In preparation for possible contingencies such as that of civilian service, the committee undertook a census of the membership of all branches of Mennonites, covering age, sex, and occupation. The census was taken by questionnaires sent out to each congregation. The report is being compiled and will be ready for publication soon.

Considerable work for the committee was caused by the registration and classification of men involved in the draft. Literature was prepared and widely distributed giving information and counsel regarding draft procedure. Because of the scope of the work, three of the bishop brethren were appointed to serve as regional counselors to assist ministers and draftees as needed. These counselors are: Amos Horst, Akron, Pa., region east of Ohio; D. A. Yoder, Elkhart, Indiana, region from Ohio to the Mississippi; Harry Diener, Hutchinson, Kansas, region west of the Mississippi. Assistance in connection with the draft will continue to be a major part of the work of the committee during the coming year. Because of the extent of the work involved, several district conferences have also appointed peace committees. Among these are Franconia, Lancaster, Virginia, Southwestern Pennsylvania, and Illinois.

Increased expenses due to the draft also required increased financial support. Hence, for the first time in its history, the committee appealed to the church at large for support, asking for an offering from each congregation. The committee is grateful for the liberal response. The increased finances necessitated a change in the treasurer's office, Bro. C. L. Graber being appointed to take over the work which Bro. J. C. Frey had faithfully carried on for many years as treasurer of General Conference.

The committee promoted a number of publications dealing with our nonresistant principles. Edward Yoder continued the monthly peace page in the Gospel Herald, and G. F. Hershberger conducted a series for several months in the Gospel Herald under the general heading, "Questions for Nonresistant Christians." The committee also sponsored the publication of a book by G. F. Hershberger, adapted particularly to our young people, under the title, "Can Christians Fight?"

Difficult times are ahead, yet we feel confident that we can trust in God for guidance and strength, and that we can trust in the Church to continue steadfast in the nonresistant faith of the Scriptures as handed down from our forefathers.

THE COMMISSION FOR CHRISTIAN EDUCATION AND YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

By Paul Erb, Secretary-Treasurer

The Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work, which was created by General Conference in 1937, is continuing to function under the temporary constitution which was provided for it at that time. The Commission considers itself responsible for promoting and helping the various forms of Christian education which are carried on in the local congregations of the church. The Commission is organized with an Executive Committee and with secretaries for the various lines of activity. There is also a Curriculums Committee. The constitution provides for two annual meetings of the Commission. These meetings are held in the spring and fall. In 1940 one meeting was held at Scottdale, Pennsylvania, on May 16, and another at Chicago, Illinois, on October 11, 12. At these meetings all secretaries and committees report the work which they have done since the last meeting and present recommendations which are considered and acted upon. As in previous years there was also a public meeting conducted by the Commission just preceding the annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. This meeting was held at the Weaver and Blough churches near Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

A large part of the work of the Commission is carried on through the activities of its General Secretary, Bro. John R. Mumaw of Harrisonburg, Virginia. During the year Bro. Mumaw made personal contacts with groups in all of the conferences east of the Mississippi and also in two of the conferences of the far Northwest. He gave addresses at a number of conferences and other meetings. His work also included editing or writing the various promotional productions of the Commission. Bro. Mumaw is especially charged with the carrying on of publicity for the Commission. He is expected to give the Commission about one-third of his time and is given an allowance to make this possible.

The Sunday school, one of the most important of our congregational activities, came in for special emphasis during this year. One hundred years ago, in 1840, the first Sunday school in the Mennonite Church was conducted in Ontario. In recognition of this centennial of Sunday-school work within the church, the Commission collaborated with the Historical Committee of General Conference to encourage and sponsor numerous meetings held throughout the church. A booklet written by Bro. H. S. Bender was published, setting forth the interesting facts of our Sunday-school history.

The summer Bible school movement continues to grow, with new schools each year. Since the first printing of our elementary course is about exhausted, plans are being made for a thorough revision before the second edition is brought out. Publication of materials for the high-school course is going forward. Personal Work, by Milo Kauffman, came from the press during the year. Other books are being prepared. The week-day Bible school movement is also growing, especially in eastern Pennsylvania.

With the purpose of stimulating and improving our young people's meetings, a promotional pamphlet has been published. Bro. John R. Mumaw published in the Gospel Herald an article on "Future Possibilities of Young People's Bible Meetings." As usual, young people's Bible meeting topics were prepared and published, together with outline studies and suggestive assignments.

During the year seventy-four persons completed the Teacher Training Course and were granted certificates. Many more persons completed one or more units of the course. Steps have been taken to publish additional textbooks by our own writers in the teacher training field.

The young people's institute continues as an effective means for Christian instruction and inspiration. Institutes were conducted at Harrisonburg, Virginia; Arbutus Park, Pennsylvania; Sebring, Ohio; Goshen, Indiana; Kalona, Iowa; Garden City, Missouri; Minot, North Dakota; and Yoder, Kansas. The institute in North Dakota was held there for the first time and was under the direction of our General Secretary, Bro. John R. Mumaw. Altogether this year about twelve hundred young people received the benefits of the young people's institutes.

As one aid to the solution of the problems of our young people, a book is being prepared with suggestions for the conduct of social gatherings.

Mission study has been encouraged through a series of articles published in the Gospel Herald. A fine list of recent textbooks is now available for mission study.

The Curriculums Committee is one of the most active parts of the Commission organization. During the year a definite plan of procedure was agreed upon with the Publication Board for the preparation and publication of materials in the field of Christian education. The committee is providing as rapidly as possible materials for the age groups which have not been adequately taken care of before. Sister Katharine Royer is preparing a course for nursery children in the Sunday school and Mrs. Reuben Carper has begun the writing of kindergarten lessons for the Sunday school and week-day Bible schools. The Curriculums Committee has organized with Bro. Paul Mininger as general editor, C. F. Yake as editor of summer and week-day Bible school materials, and Bro. Edward Yoder as editor of Sunday-school materials.

A committee has been appointed to study the need for expressional activities in the teen age. This committee is co-operating with a similar committee appointed by the Mission Board.

The Commission has adopted the policy of giving a special emphasis to some one project during the year. The Bible reading project of 1939 has received continued encouragement and many thousand Bible reading records have been distributed. A special 1940 project was the Home. A special "Home" folder was printed and distributed, and emphasis on this subject was provided in a number of conference programs. Young people's problems and work has been adopted as the matter for special emphasis in 1941.

The Treasurer received during the year funds amounting to $982.42. Almost all of this was in the form of donations from congregations and individuals from east to west. In a majority of our conferences each congregation takes an annual offering for the expense of this work. The expenditures during the year amounted to $973.14, the largest items of expense being secretary allowance, traveling expense, and printing. Besides the publications mentioned in the paragraphs above, the Commission printed and is distributing the following: a pamphlet with suggestions for conducting Young People's Bible Meetings; a leaflet on Sunday-school Libraries; a leaflet on Youth Missionary Projects; a folder on Mission Study; Easter and Missionary Day bulletins.

At the request of the Commission, Bro. S. F. Coffman wrote for the Gospel Herald an article on "The Teaching Ministry of the Church" and Bro. Chester K. Lehman also wrote an article for the Herald explaining the way in which the work of the Commission is endeavoring to aid in this teaching ministry.

Thirty-six million children and young people in the United States are securing little or no religious education. Encroaching paganism threatens not only the religious life but also the moral integrity and the well-being of our nation. A missionary zeal should stir us to increased efforts in teaching the Word of God to the children and young people around us, and may we also realize that only the most faithful and efficient teaching and evangelization among our own children can protect them from the insidious influences about them. May God bless the work of the Commission to this end.

WINTER BIBLE SCHOOLS

By S. G. Shetler

A number of interested Christian workers felt that some means of instruction should be provided for such students who could not spend a term of nine months in a Bible school on account of finances or on account of being away from home for that length of time. This has led to a number of schools generally known as short-term winter Bible schools.

As early as 1900 one of these schools was organized. Since that time at least thirty-five schools have been organized and in most cases continued until the present. All of these schools with the exception of one have been organized under the proper church channels, which have been by four different methods.

Six Mennonite Church conferences have conducted schools under the supervision of the conference. The first conference to attempt this work was the Ontario Conference which has controlled the Kitchener Bible School since 1906. This was followed by the Pacific Coast Conference whose school was first held in 1920. Other conferences which have undertaken this work are Alberta-Saskatchewan, Southwestern Pennsylvania, Dakota-Montana, and Lancaster. The schools in these conference districts have been under the control of a committee or board either partially or wholly elected or appointed by the conference. In one conference a constitution has been adopted by the conference for the management of the school.

The three church schools, Goshen College, Hesston College and Bible School, and Eastern Mennonite School, have also conducted schools of this type for a number of years. The short terms are under the direct control of the school management.

Since a number of people, including both middle aged and young people, have not been even able to go away from home for even six weeks, individual congregations have arranged for a short term right in the congregation and have held sessions annually, generally during a period of time in which people could attend most easily. In some of these schools, sessions are held in forenoon and evening or afternoon and evening so that students who work in offices, shops, factories, schools, homes, or in some other day work can attend the night sessions.

In southeastern Iowa, Lagrange County, Indiana, and in Mifflin County, Pennsylvania, a number of congregations have conjointly conducted schools annually. These schools are under the management of a committee representing the different congregations connected with the school.

The places where schools are being held and the length of the terms have not been uniform. The church conference schools have been held as follows: Ontario at Kitchener for twelve weeks; Southwestern Pennsylvania at Johnstown, Pa., six weeks; Lancaster at Ephrata, Pa., six weeks; Dakota-Montana at different places for several weeks each; Pacific Coast first year at Hopewell and Albany churches Oregon, three weeks at each place,—later at different places in Oregon and Idaho; Alberta-Saskatchewan in different churches several weeks each. The short-term schools in connection with our church schools are held at Hesston, Kansas, Goshen, Indiana, and Harrisonburg, Virginia, each for a period of six weeks. The schools under the control of individual congregations or under a group of congregations are held for two to six weeks. Among the places where schools are now being held or have been held are the following: Canton and Archbold in Ohio; Leo, Kokomo, Berea, and Shore in Indiana; Fairview, Riverside, Bowne, Pigeon River, and Midland in Michigan; Sheridan, Fairview, and Zion in Oregon; Creston and Bloomfield in Montana; Wolford, Minot, Kenmare in North Dakota; Detroit Lakes in Minnesota; Atglen and Allensville in Pennsylvania; Tofield, Carstairs, High River, and Duchess in Alberta; Nampa in Idaho; Wayland and Lower Deer Creek in Iowa; East Zorra and another church in Ontario. Only a few of these schools have been discontinued. Some new ones have been started and several re-opened in the last few years. The schools cover a large scope of our churches.

Courses are arranged for the schools in which the books of the Bible are studied in cycles. Among other subjects taught are Church History, Missions, Homiletics, Public Speaking, Vocal Music, Teachers' Training Course, Summer Bible School Course, Bible Geography, Bible Doctrine, Distinctive Doctrines of the Bible, Methods of Bible Study, Personal Work, and other subjects along the line of Christian activity.

In some of the schools public programs are given in which the students have the benefit of hearing lectures and are given the opportunity to do work before an audience. Prayer circles, literary societies, music programs, visiting jails, distributing tracts, services for shut-ins and assisting in mission Sunday schools are among the student activities besides the regular schoolwork.

In observing these schools for a number of years and from the expressions received from others, we wish to state some of the favorable results of the schools. Among the most noticeable ones are the following:

Increased interest in Bible study.

Deepening of convictions for the things of God.

Marked spiritual development among the young people.

Better preparation for Sunday-school teachers and officers.

Increased spirituality in the congregation.

A very valuable contact with leaders of the Church.

A greater interest among the young people in the work of the Church.

A higher appreciation for the Church and the principles for which she stands.

A better preparation and strengthening for Christian living.

A better indoctrination of the youth of our Church.

Loyalty to the distinctive doctrines of the Church.

Strengthening against the tide of worldliness.

Seeking further for Christian service.

A development and strengthening of social life among the students.

A number of students have reconsecrated their lives.

Students have become more missionary-minded.

A number of ordained brethren, nurses, and missionaries in home and foreign fields have been students in these schools.

The attendance in the schools held in our church schools has been largely among young people. In a number of the two-week schools, some middle-aged people attended also. The smallest number in any school was fifteen and the largest number in any school in one year was above two hundred fifty. The attendance last year (1939) in twenty-four schools was 1844. A few schools did not report. Total attendance was above 2000. What effect will this have on the work of the Church and loyalty within the Church to have such a large number studying the Bible? Surely this work will be and is already a blessing to the Church.

Since students have had an opportunity to come in contact with so many church leaders, a partial list of teachers will be given. Some of these have already gone to their reward. The following list includes those who have been or are now engaged in this work: J. S. Shoemaker, N. E. Miller, J. A. Ressler, L. J. Heatwole, J. S. Hartzler, S. C. Yoder, J. D. Mininger, J. B. Smith, J. R. Shank, J. C. Gingerich, Simon Gingerich, Noah Landis, Jess Kauffman, Eli G. Hochstetler, J. G. Hochstetler, Clarence J. Ramer, Silas Horst, Abner Yoder, Edward Diener, J. Paul Graybill, Noah H. Mack, Henry F. Garber, Henry E. Lutz, Christian K. Lehman, John R. Kraybill, Fred Gingerich, M. S. Zehr, J. S. Neuhouser, D. A. Yoder, S. G. Shetler, E. C. Bender, Wm. G. Detweiler, A. D. Wenger, I. W. Royer, O. N. Johns, Milton Brackbill, J. Irvin Lehman, E. W. Kulp, H. E. Shank, Jacob R. Bender, Oscar Burkholder, S. F. Coffman, C. F. Derstine, S. E. Honderich, Paul N. Roth, Edwin J. Yoder, Geo. J. Lapp, Nevin J. Bender, A. J. Metzler, Amos Hostetler, Milo Kauffman,. Nelson E. Kauffman, Paul M. Roth, Laban Swartzentruber, Ira S. Johns, Erie E. Bontrager, Milo D. Stutzman, J. L. Stauffer, J. C. Wenger, Edward B. Frey, Stanford Mumaw, J. J. Hostetler. This list of instructors to which a number more could be added shows that there is a very favorable sentiment for the winter Bible schools. This point of contact in regular classroom and other schoolwork has had a very unifying effect on both instructors and students.

If proper care is exercised, we bespeak good success for the winter Bible schools.

UNAFFILIATED MENNONITE CONGREGATIONS

The following is a list of ministers of various bodies of Mennonites who adhere to the tenets of the Confession of Faith adopted by the Mennonites at Dortrecht in 1632, but have not affiliated themselves with any of the organized conferences. If we are privileged to prepare future issues of this work, we shall be glad to add to this list as we secure information enabling us to do so.

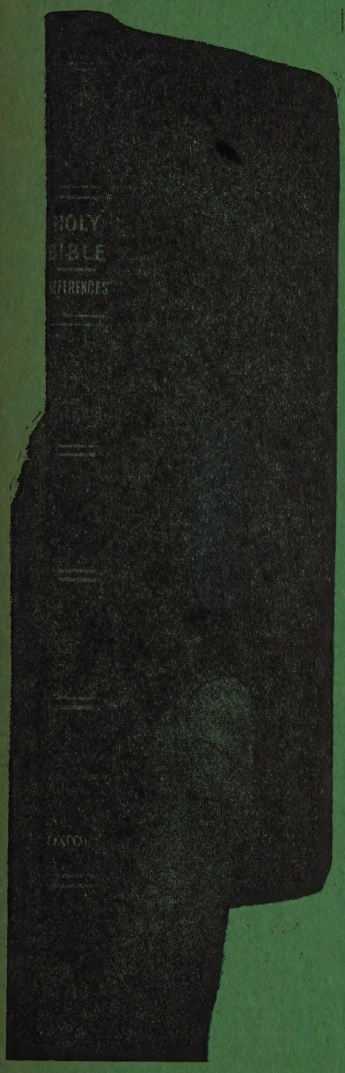
Here is the Bible You have long wanted

New Oxford ONYX TYPE Reference Bible



IF you are one of the many who have long sought the ideal Bible, here it is at last. Now you can own the long desired Bible which is so compact and light that you can conveniently carry it in your pocket or hand-bag and yet with print that you can easily read. And the prices are very moderate.

One of the Thinnest Reference Bibles Made

This is one of the thinnest reference Bibles in the world, with this size type. People marvel and say it looks like a New Testament but it is the whole Bible! This notable result is due to the discovery of the new ULTRATHIN Oxford India paper and the use of a specially cut ONYX TYPE.

Wonderful Ultrathin Oxford India Paper

Ultrathin Oxford India paper is the result of long experimentation. This marvelous new product, when scientifically tested, has been found to be not only thinner but stronger and more opaque than any other thin paper. The pages can be turned easily, the print stands out clearly and its agreeable tone is restful to the eye. These Bibles are printed on this new, marvelously thin paper.

New Specially Cut Onyx Type

This newest of Oxford Bibles has been printed with ONYX TYPE, one of the latest of type faces. This type was specially cut so that you could have a Bible that is easy to read in only 894 pages.

Specimen of Type

RECENT PUBLICATIONS

MARTYRS' MIRROR—By Thieleman van Braght.

The famous Martyrs Mirror book, which had been out of print for a number of years, has recently been reprinted. The printing of this 1152-page book has been no small undertaking. It is now offered in a well printed book with easily read type, many illustrations, and a substantial binding.

A second title is The Bloody Theater of the Defenseless Christians who baptized only upon confession of faith, and who suffered and died for the testimony of Jesus their Saviour, from the time of Christ to the year A.D. 1660. Compiled from various authentic chronicles, memorials, and testimonies by Thieleman J. van Braght. Translated from the original Dutch or Holland language from the edition of 1660 by Joseph F. Sohm.

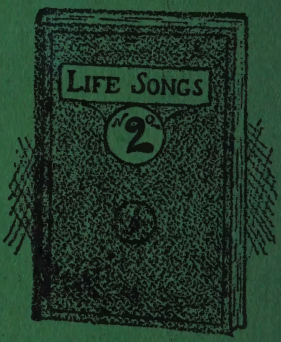
The book presents the doctrines, teachings and practices, as well as the story of the sufferings, the faithful endurance, and the final triumphant deaths of those of like precious faith with us who lived in the earlier ages of Christianity. The reading of this book should help each to appreciate more fully the privileges of religious freedom, and inspire many to live a more consecrated life, to practice greater self-denial, to live more separated from the world, and manifest a greater zeal in the work of the Lord and the salvation of souls. A book for every Mennonite and Amish home.

Strong buff imitation leather binding, sprinkled edge, postpaid $6.00.

LIFE SONGS No. 2

A COLLECTION OF SACRED SONGS FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS, YOUNG PEOPLE'S MEETINGS, AND EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Published under the direction of a committee appointed by Mennonite General Conference



The committee purposely used very few songs which appear in our other song books. Therefore this book should bring new life and variety into our worship. By special arrangement with one of the largest publishers of religious song books, we have use in this book of a great many of the general favorite selections.

The book is of standard size, 6 x 8½ inches. Size of music plates 4½ x 7¼ inches. It contains 288 pages, 320 songs with the music, 20 familiar hymns in words only. Issued in both shaped and round notes.
